AIRBORNE LAW ENFORCEMENT

Mission

United Rotorcraft is committed to completing your helicopter with the equipment required to meet your mission. We have experience with all levels of integration and completions many Airborne Law Enforcement Agencies require. These missions require the utmost attention to detail and a high level of aptitude to understand the engineering dynamics of multiple avionics and accessory integrations used to help our law enforcement agency protect our communities.

Paint

United Rotorcraft offers comprehensive “one-stop” painting services. We have the capability to design, or assist with the design of, a paint scheme. Our paint staff has decades of experience and the skills to combine art with the science of painting aircraft to exceed customer expectations. We use the highest quality DuPont paint system available which is specifically formulated to withstand the demands, and harsh environment of aviation.

Our Decatur, Texas facility includes a 6,600 square foot state of the art aircraft painting facility with the capability to paint nearly all sizes of helicopters up to and including a UH-60 Blackhawk located adjacent to our completions hangar. It includes an 18 x 63 foot paint booth with a superior ventilation system virtually eliminating dust concerns and providing consistent clear finishes throughout each stage of the process.

Avionics

Avionics manufacturers are constantly changing and improving technology and capability. We identify the customer's mission needs, match it to the available technology, and integrate every system configuration to its fullest capability. Our staff of technicians and engineers research the latest technology and attend training to ensure we are always current and have the best solutions to meet every mission profile requirement.

Military Surplus

Many agencies have taken advantage of the military surplus program. If your agency is one of them, we can paint, complete and integrate any new or customer furnished equipment you have, essentially making your helicopter like new.
